IEEE Summer Of Code

An Open Source Contribution Event

Terms & Conditions

IEEE Summer of Code

By registering for or participating in IEEE Summer of Code, you agree to the following terms:

1. Eligibility

- Open to students aged 16 and above who are currently enrolled in an undergraduate program
- Participants must register via the official platform and provide accurate information.

2. Participation Rules

- Code Submissions: All contributions must be original or properly attributed. Plagiarism results in disqualification.
- Conduct: Adhere to the Code of Conduct (harassment, cheating, or misuse of resources will not be tolerated).
- Teamwork: Collaborate respectfully; disputes may lead to removal from the Event.

3. Intellectual Property

- Participants retain ownership of their code but grant IEEE a non-exclusive license to showcase, adapt, modify, or reuse submissions for promotional/educational purposes.
- Open-source projects must comply with their respective licenses.

4. Data Privacy

- Personal data (name, email, institution) will be used for Event coordination, announcements, and analytics.
- By registering, you consent to IEEE's Privacy Policy and receiving Event-related communications.

5. Event Modifications

- IEEE reserves the right to cancel, reschedule, or change Event formats (e.g., hybrid to fully online).
- Prize details (swags, certificates) may vary based on sponsor availability.

6. Liability & Disclaimers

- IEEE is not responsible for:
 - Technical issues (e.g., GitHub downtime, connectivity problems).
 - Injuries or damages during on-campus sessions.
 - Misuse of third-party tools/platforms (e.g., Devfolio, 0xHacking).
- Participants are responsible for their own well-being throughout the duration of the event, both in online and offline settings.

7. Prizes & Certificates

- Winners will be notified via email and must respond within 7 days to claim prizes.
- Prizes are non-transferable; no cash alternatives.
- Participants must meet a minimum contribution threshold to be eligible for certificates. These requirements will be clearly communicated to all in a timely manner.

8. Termination

IEEE may disqualify participants for violating terms, with no refunds or recourse.

Acceptance

By registering, you confirm that you have read, understood, and agreed to these Terms.
